Nothing Silver Can Be Torn

To continue the theme of goods made for campers who don't like camping, Silver Tears makes some of the smallest, most amazingly awesome campers I've seen since... okay, ever. Maple, aluminum, hand-crafted -- words not normally associated with outdoor goods, but words I like to see while reader descriptions of campers I'll probably never actually buy. Made in Roanoke, VA, this camper may not ever see the back of any car of mine, but may see the back of my yard -- guest house done easy.

A TIME

Not for this. Not for that. For everything in between. For work. For avoiding work. For inspiration. For a resource. For entertainment. For a minute. For an hour. The good, the bad, and yes, even the ugly. In a world that has no time for anything, there is always a time to give, and every now and again... a time to get.
